Industrial Security Training Products and Resources

Webinar guests submitted several questions before and during the April 11, 2013 Industrial Security Training Products and Resources session. The following responses are provided by the Center for Development of Security Excellence (CDSE).

Question: I am interested in any products and resources I can use to heighten awareness of on the job security of all kinds. Posters I could post on our company website or distribute to employees via email would be great. Classes our employees could take online would be really good, too.

Answer: The CDSE course catalog, which can be found at <http://www.cdse.edu/catalog/index.html>, has many products you and your employees can use.

Question: I have been an FSO at my company for a number of years. Is there a refresher training course I can take on the DSS training website?

Answer: Although there is no specific FSO refresher course, many FSO's revisit courses previously completed every several years, or whenever there is a policy change which affects NISPOM requirements.

Question: I would like to find training, briefings, etc., for traveling employees.

Answer: A foreign travel short is currently in development.

Question: Other than the initial and annual security briefing available, is there a standard form (other than the SF 312) that can be used when debriefing an employee? If so, provide a copy.

Answer: There is no standard form for debriefing an employee.

Question: When will resource links in online training be updated to work properly with web-based resource references?

Answer: We are currently in the process of reviewing our online courses and developing an updated Resource Page for each of our eLearning courses.
